

2019/2021 SOCIAL PLAN

INTRODUCTION

Narromine Shire Council's Social Plan identifies the aspirations, hopes and gaps within the Narromine Shire Council area that influence people's quality of life. The preparation of the Social Plan 2019-2021 has included a number of phases:

Phase 1: Developing the Community Strategic Plan

In 2016 Narromine Shire Council undertook the development of the Community Strategic Plan as part of its Integrated Planning and Reporting strategy. This plan highlighted the local community's aspirations across a number of broad themes including vibrant communities, growing our economy, protecting and enhancing our environment and proactive leadership.

During the development of this plan a detailed demographic analysis was undertaken, detailed legislative and policy analysis along with consultation of over 200 local people and community groups.

Phase 2: Social Plan 2019-2021

From the broad themes provided in the Community Strategic Plan a number of social themes have been developed that capture those wants and needs specific to the Social Plan. This Social Plan now sets out the strategic direction of Narromine Shire Council in regards to the social needs of our communities and highlights potential gaps in the delivery of services requested by the community.

The social plan provides the strategic direction for the life of Narromine Shire Council's current Delivery Plan through to 30 June 2021.

The themes contained within Narromine Shire Council's Social Plan are:

OUR COMMUNITIES

“We choose to live in our Shire because of its location with access to a regional centre, its picturesque setting and our close community connections.”

The Narromine Shire is located 40 kilometres west of Dubbo, in the Orana region of New South Wales, Australia. Covering 5224 square kilometres, our vast Shire includes the major rural centre of Narromine, as well as Trangie and Tomingley.

We are a community of nearly 7,000 residents and are proud of our heritage, history and towns that we share with our residents, businesses and visitors. We choose to live in our Shire because of its location with access to a regional centre, its picturesque setting and our close community connections.

The Wiradjuri people were the original inhabitants of this area and the traditional owners of this land. Today our Shire has an indigenous population of just under 1000 residents (21%).

Our agriculture sector has long been the mainstay and we are well known for our sheep, cattle and wool, cotton production as well as broadacre cereal crops. Alkane Resources Limited provide significant employment opportunities.

OUR VISION

The Narromine Shire is a friendly place to live with a strong sense of community that values our services, facilities and our natural rural environment.

We are a community that values the diversity of people, ideas, perspectives and experiences.

We work together to strive towards a vibrant, safe and engaged community that provides opportunities for all its members.

Our Council is a leader for our community sharing the responsibility for growth, development and provision of services.

DATA SNAPSHOT

Our agriculture sector has long been the mainstay and we are well known for our sheep, cattle and wool, cotton production as well as broadacre cereal crops. Alkane Resources Limited provide significant employment opportunities.

Definition

Socio Economic Indexes for Areas (SEIFA) is a suite of indexes that have been created by the Australian Bureau of Statistics (ABS) from social and economic Census information.

Each index ranks geographic areas across Australia in terms of their relative socio-economic advantage and disadvantage. This report presents information from the Index of Relative Socio-economic Disadvantage (IRSD), a general socio-economic index that summarises a range of information about the economic and social conditions of people and households within an area. This index includes only measures of relative disadvantage.

Low Index Score	High Index Score
Low Rank	High Rank
←————→
Most Disadvantaged	Least Disadvantaged

A low score indicates relatively greater disadvantage in general. For example, an area could have a low score if there are (among other things):

- many households with low income, many people with no qualifications, or many people in low skill occupations.

A high score indicates a relative lack of disadvantage in general. For example, an area may have a high score if there are (among other things):

- few households with low incomes, few people with no qualifications, and few people in low skilled occupations.

A LIVEABLE COMMUNITY

“Don’t forget people with disabilities. They like to be able to get around town more easily.”

Liveability continues to be one of the strongest themes within the Community Strategic Plan and Social Plan. From our open spaces to community facilities the community looks for modern and well maintained facilities.
